ILLUSTRATED PANTOMIMES

MY COUNTRY, 'TIS OF THEE. 50 cents. A pantomime for 1 female, by ANNA D. COOPER, illustrating by a succession of emotional and patriotic poses, the progress of the American Anthem, while it is read, or sung with musical accompaniment. It consists of over 25 graceful and effective changes of gesture, 10 of which are photographed from life, the poser being draped in the American flag. It occupies about 8 minutes and is specially adapted for schools, churches and patriotic societies.

HARK, HARK, MY SOUL. 50 cents. A beautiful rendering of the hymn in pantomime for 1 female, by ANNA D. COOPER. The sentiments of the hymn are illustrated by a lady in a continuous change of gestures, 10 of which are portrayed by photographs taken from life, while the verses are sung by a solo singer and chorus concealed from the audience. It requires about 6 or 7 minutes for performance and is strikingly effective.

GYPSY'S WARNING, The. 50 cents. A pantomime for 1 male and 2 female performers, arranged and posed by ANNA D. COOPER. The actions of the posers are illustrative of the text of the song as sung with piano accompaniment behind the scene. An old Gypsy discovers a Cavalier ardently wooing a maiden. The Gypsy recognizes him as the one who has wooed and deserted her own daughter, and warns the maiden of his perfidy. The climax, when the maiden at last convinced recoils in horror from the Cavalier, is powerfully dramatic. It is illustrated with six tableaux photographed from life, and occupies 8 to 10 minutes.

MISS HULDAH'S OFFER. 50 cents. A pantomime for 1 female, arranged by ANNA D. COOPER. Fully described and illustrated by 6 photographs from life. Miss Huldah, a sentimental maiden of 40, receives an offer of marriage in a letter which is read behind the scenes. (The text may also be recited as a monologue in action.) The manner in which the offer affects her is faithfully and humorously portrayed by her actions and demeanor. The struggle between jubilant satisfaction and maidenly modesty at the offer, almost past her hoping for, is very funny. The action covers about 8 minutes.

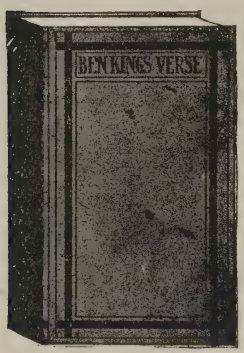
BEN KING'S VERSE

This book has had a larger sale than any book of humorous verse in recent years. Ben King's work is unique in American literature. His humor and pathos alike are different from that of any other author.



If I Should Die Tonight

If I should die tonight
And you should come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die tonight
And you should come in deepest grief and woe
And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe"—
I might arise in my large white cravat
And say, "What's that?"

If I should die tonight
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel—
I say, if I should die tonight
And you should come to me, and there and then
Just even hint 'bout payin' me that ten,
I might arise the while;
But I'd drop dead again.

These books have been prepared to meet the demands of the new two-year schedule in elementary physics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The two-year schedule in elementary physics, beginning with the Freshman year, means that teachers of physics cannot base their work upon college courses in mathematics to the extent that might have been possible heretofore; the two groups of teachers must henceforth attack their problem in parallel, but in spite of the limitations thereby imposed on the physics teacher, the authors believe that the physics teacher can make use of the more powerful mathematical methods from the beginning, and, accordingly, differential and integral calculus have been used throughout these new texts, but without demanding the previous study of calculus by the student.

These new texts have been arranged with but one purpose in view, namely to facilitate class-room work; textual and problem material has been arranged in strict lesson order; explanatory and descriptive material has been reduced to a minimum because students will not read more than is absolutely necessary; and the development of every topic leads as directly as possible to illustrative problems.

COBERN, CAMDEN M., D.D., Litt.D.

The New Archeological Discoveries, and Their Bearing upon the New Testament and upon the Life and Times of the Primitive Church. With Introduction by Edouard Naville, D.C.L., LL.D. While filled with material that will be of intense interest to scholars and Bible students, this illuminating work is written in a style so popular as to make a strong appeal to every book-lover. Not only does it throw strong light on the text and style of the New Testament; it also presents a most interesting picture, drawn from the original sources, of the life, social and religious customs, art, literature, family relations, etc., of the early Christian centuries, that will make the people of New Testament times as real to us as our associates and friends of to-day. The book has many illustrations, is popular in form, yet loses nothing of scientific value by simplicity of presentation. Second edition, revised, within six months of publication. Large 8vo, 732 pp. $3.00.

The first section of the book, dealing with the modern discoveries of papyri, presents some hundred large pages of great fascination. Also of great interest is the second chapter on the new light from papyri upon the language of the New Testament. . . . But this is only Part I. In Part II are studied the monuments, inscriptions and other remains with respect to their bearing on the life and times of the primitive church. The material comes mainly from Palestine, Pompeii, the Roman Catacombs, Phrygia and Syria. The excavations at the famous cities mentioned in the New Testament are treated in a special section, and finally the author considers new documentary and other evidence throwing light upon the early Christian centuries. This last section treats of classical texts in the light of new discoveries, non-Biblical Jewish literature which influenced theological and ethical thought of Palestine in the first century and the intellectual, social and religious life as seen in the papyri.—The Evening Sun, New York.

"I have known for some time that Dr. Cobern was planning this book, and I rejoice that it has been successfully completed. . . . Although I have been quite familiar with the material of the book, I have found much in it that is new."—Dr. Adolph Deissmann, great German Archæological Authority.

"This is a book that was much wanted to focus together the varied material, especially papyri, that bore on early Christianity. . . . Everyone not already a specialist in these studies will be much indebted to Dr. Cobern."—W. M. Flinders Petrie, in Ancient Egypt.

"It is truly a marvelous book. It gives in simple and unprofessional language the results of vast and varied learning. It is as fascinating as a novel and as instructive as are few accessible books."—R. S. MacArthur, D.D., President Baptist World Alliance, New York City.

"You have made us all your debtors by bringing into the compass of one volume the results of so many scattered discoveries and researches. I can appreciate as perhaps few can the labor that it has cost you. I shall make much use of the book myself and take pleasure in recommending it to others. I am particularly glad that you included in the scope of the book the life and times of the primitive church.—George A. Barton, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Biblical Literature and Semitic Languages, Bryn Mawr College.

"An extremely useful collection and discussion of material of great importance for the study of the New Testament; material which is not elsewhere brought together and is far too often overlooked."—Charles C. Torrey, Ph.D., D.D., Professor of Semitic Languages, Yale University.

*HEXAGLOT BIBLE, THE

Comprising the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments in the original tongues. The work presents the Scriptures of the Old Testament in six languages, the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, English, German, and French, and the New Testament in Greek, Syriac, Latin, English, German, and French. The texts are conveniently arranged in six parallel columns, three columns on each of two opposite pages. Edited by the Rev. Edward Riches De Levante, M.A., Ph.D. Assisted by competent Biblical scholars. The prominent feature is the analytical character of each reference. The Bible student can, at a glance, find out four distinct points: (a) What the original Hebrew or Greek of any word is; (b) its literal meaning; (c) a correct and trustworthy exegesis, and (d) what are really parallel passages. Six volumes, quarto, Cloth, $40.00; Sheep, $60.00; half Morocco, $80.00.

The texts are those of the highest authorities. The Hebrew is that of Van der Hooght, carefully revised. The Greek in the old Testament is Dr. Tischendorf's latest edition, with gaps supplied in brackets, from various sources, and in the New Testament, Dr. Tischendorf's eighth edition similarly supplemented. The Latin of the Old Testament is the Clementine edition of the Vulgate, and in the New Testament, Dr. Tischendorf's edition of the Codex Amiatinus, with gaps supplied in brackets, from the Clementine edition. The Syriac (in the New Testament only) is based on the noted "Biblia Sacra Polyglotta." The English is the Authorized Version; the German, Martin Luther's translation, and the French is the translation by David Martin with revisions.

It is not only a sumptuous book for a library, but is also a book of comparative versions which will be of incalculable convenience and value. . . . Each version has been committed to a scholar specially qualified for editing it, and the whole has been produced in a style of printing which places the work at the head of the Biblical texts of this country.—British Quarterly Review.

The Immigration Problem. A Study of American Immigration—Conditions and Needs. Dr. Jenks, now Research Professor of Government and Public Administration in New York University, was an active member of the United States Immigration Commission, appointed in 1907, and Prof. Lauck, now Director of the Bureau of Applied Economics, at Washington, was officially connected therewith during the Commission's four years of searching work. Based upon the extended Report of that Commission, in forty-two volumes, this book's Fourth Edition has been revised and enlarged, with addition of all available data in the text; the new Immigration Law, enacted February 5, 1917, has been added to the appendices; and an important chapter upon that law has been prepared by Mr. W. W. Husband, Secretary of the Commission. It is thus brought down to date as the standard compact authority on Immigration, in accordance with latest official figures and facts, holding place absolutely abreast with conditions affecting our nation's present and future. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 605. $1.75.

It is likely to become the standard work on the subject until the problem is solved.—The New Age, London.

"Altogether the work stands by itself as a complete and up-to-date compendium upon this important question."—The Living Age, Boston, Massachusetts.

"This book will continue to hold its position as the authoritative digest of the reports of the Immigration Commission, and as such will serve a widely useful purpose."—The Evening Post, New York.

"The book is the most exhaustive study of the immigration problem in compact form that we have, and the fact that the authors gave four years' study to the problem on the Immigration Commission puts them in a position to produce a standard authoritative work."—The Transcript, Boston, Mass.

We have here the most solid basis of reasoning on this great subject that we have ever had. The authors seem to have tried, and successfully, to furnish materials to persons of all views and parties for an independent judgment.—Prof. Charles R. Henderson, Ph.D., D.D., Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Chicago.

An admirable summary of the facts brought forth by the researches of the Immigration Commission and the conclusions and suggestions of the authors are at once comprehensive, cautious, sound. The book is one that every student of the issues of public policy in America must become familiar with.—Prof. F. H. Giddings, Department of Social Science, Columbia University.

MENTAL EFFICIENCY SERIES

Ten Volumes of uniform 16mo size, made up in the most careful manner from the writings of Aristotle, Socrates, Darwin, Spencer, William James, Muensterberg, Jastrow, Schofield, and other accepted authorities on mental science practically applied. But though in a broad way these men are the authors of these books, those who have done the actual work of collecting the material and putting it into this unusual form are a group of scientists and practical men prominent in this sort of work, not only in this country but abroad, where the study of mental efficiency has really reached a much higher plane. The great service they have performed has been to point out the practical day-by-day application of all this knowledge. The topics treated in these ten volumes are:

Timidity: How to Overcome It. Yoritomo-Tashi.

MODERN SERMONS BY WORLD SCHOLARS

Ten volumes of over seventy sermons, Edited by Robert Scott and W. C. Stiles, with introduction by Newell Dwight Hillis, D.D. Each sermon, given entire, was selected (oftentimes by the preacher himself) as most representative of the authors' style and force. In every instance, where the author was living, an approval of the selection was sought and obtained, so that the ten volumes are fairly representative of the modern pulpit as characterized by these world scholars. The topics embraced are of timely interest and furnish excellent reading for the layman, as well as for the clergyman. The following are a few of the many scholars whose best pulpit efforts are included in the ten volumes:

Lyman Abbott, Walter F. Adeny, Willis J. Beecher, Llewelyn D. Bevan, Hugh Black, Borden P. Bowne, James Denny, Canon S. R. Driver, James Drummond, A. M. Fairbairn, W. H. P. Faunce, George A. Ephesians–Revelation; 28. Index volume to the entire work.

†The Pulpit Bible. The entire text of the Bible is printed in large, clear type, with bright and suggestive illustrations in an ample margin opposite each significant verse. Each note is thus a suggestion for a sermon. Where space has not permitted a sufficient treatment of any passage, a copious and most carefully detailed index indicates in which of Dr. Parker's other books the particular interpretation is provided. 4to, Full Morocco, 1,351 pp., one vol. $15.00.

With copious indexes to each volume and an index volume to the entire series. Among the contributors are: Rev. J. S. Exell, M.A.; Rev. W. Burrows, B.A.; Thomas Robinson, D.D.; Rev. J. W. Harris; Rev. D. G. Watt, M.A.; Rev. Geo. Barlow; Rev. Robert Tuck; Thomas Whitelaw, D.D.; Rev. Henry J. Foster, etc.

Preacher's Complete Homiletic Commentary on the Old Testament. By twenty distinguished homilists. 8vo, Cloth, over 12,000 pp., 20 vols. (and index volume), complete, $60.00; per vol., $3.00.

Preacher's Complete Homiletic Commentary on the New Testament. Uniform size and style with the Homiletic Commentary on the Old Testament. Cloth, 10 vols. (and index volume), 6,000 pp., $30.00; per vol., $3.00.

FEATURES OF THE CONTENTS

IT BRINGS TO THE PREACHER'S ATTENTION hundreds of texts heretofore almost wholly passed over by the pulpit. Spurgeon, in his Commenting and Commentaries, says: "We have next to nothing on Kings." In the Homiletic Commentary we have on Kings alone 743 treatments of texts. The same is true of other books, as Jeremiah. New expositions, critical notes, illustrations, etc., are poured in upon neglected texts, and additional light thrown upon old texts.

IT IS THE ONLY COMMENTARY that supplies a sermonic treatment of homiletic suggestion on every verse of both the Old and New Testaments that can be used to advantage as a sermon text.

IT THROWS NEW LIGHT upon the present controversies over the Old Testament.

THE COMMENTARY IS WHOLLY IN ENGLISH, avoiding Hebrew and Greek, except here and there in the critical notes.

THE INDEXES are useful and practical.

Crown 8vo, Cloth. $1.50.

Discussion of the three primary divisions of the subject—Positive Eugenics, or the encouragement of worthy parenthood; Negative Eugenics, or the discouragement of unworthy parenthood; and Preventive Eugenics, or a study of racial poisons—constitutes a study of this subject which should be read by every parent and public-spirited person in the country, to say nothing of its relation to the whole religious and social problem.—Christian Standard, Cincinnati.

SCHAFF-HERZOG ENCYCLOPEDIA OF RELIGIOUS KNOWLEDGE, THE NEW

Embracing Biblical, Historical, Doctrinal, and Practical Theology, and Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Biography from the Earliest times to the Present day. Based on the celebrated German Hauck-Herzog Realencyklopädie für Protestantische Theologie und Kirche. Prepared by more than six hundred scholars and specialists under the supervision of Samuel Macauley Jackson, D.D., LL.D., Editor-in-Chief, Associate Editor with Dr. Philip Schaff, of the First Edition, Professor of Church History in New York University, with the assistance of Charles Colebrook Sherman, Managing Editor, and George William Gilmore, M.A., Bibliographical Editor, and the following Department Editors: James Frederick McCurdy, Ph.D., LL.D., University College, Toronto; Clarence Augustine Beckwith, D.D., Chicago Theological Seminary; Henry King Carroll, LL.D., Corresponding Secretary Methodist Missionary Society; Henry Sylvester Nash, D.D., Cambridge Theological School; Albert Henry Newman, D.D., LL.D., Baylor University, Texas; John Thomas Creagh, D.D., Catholic University of America, Washington; James Francis Driscoll, D.D., St. Joseph's Seminary. Complete in twelve 8vo volumes, aggregating about six thousand pages and an Extended Index, forming a Supplementary 8vo Volume of 211 pages, compiled with great care, by Prof. George William Gilmore, Associate Editor of the work, to make available, with the least possible expenditure of time to the reader, all its rich treasures of knowledge. In this Index, vocabulary titles are printed in Small Capitals; and all entries are intended to register passages where actual information is given upon the topic suggested. It is notably a working Index, which the student will appreciate for its frequent convenience and its great practical value. Price of the 13 volumes in Cloth, $64; in Half Morocco, $102; in Full Morocco, $128. Separate volumes sold in cloth only, $5.

It contains the best and latest information, put together in a catholic spirit, free from rash theorizing and immature conclusions.—Prof. A. H. Sayce, D.D., LL.D., Oxford University.

Its extent, variety, and accuracy of information are notable. Its digest of facts and its tabular statistics make it indispensable for reference. It is discreet and fair in its handling of controverted topics. It is abundant and also well comprest. So scholarly an array is rare.—M. Woolsey Stryker, D.D., LL.D., Pres. Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y.

In its original form this work has been familiar to students for many years. In this edition the original articles have been reconstructed and brought up to date by distinguished American theologians, under the able editorship of Dr. Jackson. Two features are specially worthy of note: The insertion of hundreds of biographies of men of the present generation on the same pages as those of ancient and Scripture history, so that Adam, Aaron, Augustine and Dr. Allon are brought into close contiguity; and the remarkable and extensive bibliography attached to the articles. The latter is probably the most useful feature of the present edition, and could hardly be excelled. The scope is so wide as to necessitate very drastic compression in some directions, in order to bring the Encyclopedia within the twelve volumes to which it is limited. The old and the new views are stated side by side.—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

SERMON BIBLE, THE

A sermon library, containing 4,800 sermon outlines with more than 24,000 homiletical references and embracing the whole of the Sacred Scriptures. It gives the essence of the very best homiletic literature of the present generation, and it is a source of inexhaustible help to the preacher, student, or other Christian worker.

The supreme value of The Sermon Bible lies in its fertility of suggestiveness. Many a preacher or speaker grows weary at times of "seeking for suggestive hints." He wanders over acres of miscellaneous writing and can hunt up nothing pertinent. The process is an exhausting preliminary to the making of a discourse. It will be entirely obviated by judicious resort to the volumes of The Sermon Bible. Upon thousands of text-topics the desired aid will be instantly discovered, and the mind will be set going in the right direction, with an initial impetus toward original thought.

In 12 volumes. 12mo, Cloth. $1.50 per volume; $18.00 per set.

FEATURES OF THE CONTENTS

The plan of the work, in general, gives under each text, each being in its consecutive order from Genesis to Revelation: (1) Outline of important sermons by eminent preachers which exist only in manuscript or periodicals, and are thus inaccessible; or, (2) less full outlines of sermons which have appeared in volumes that are not well known or easily obtained; or, (3) reference to or very brief outlines of sermons which appear in popular volumes such as are likely to be in a preacher's library; and (4) full references to theological treatises, commentaries, etc., where any help is given to the elucidation of the text. Thus the preacher, having chosen his text, has only to refer to the Sermon Bible to find some of the best outlines and suggestions on it and very helpful references to all the aids available. Blank pages are bound in the end of each volume for manuscript notes.

A new Creation from A to Z. Four years of time and more than $1,450,000 of money were spent in its production. Over 380 Editors and Specialists were engaged upon it. It has about 3,000 pages; gives over 450,000 living vocabulary terms; has dozens of important features not found in any other dictionary; and is as far ahead of the old "Standard" as that was ahead of every other dictionary twenty years ago.

For years I have been a constant user of the Standard Dictionary. I am greatly pleased with the New Standard, which I have had on my desk since its publication.—Chas. McKenny, President Michigan State Normal College.

There is no doubt about its being the greatest dictionary of the English language that has ever been published. I prize it very highly, and so far as I am concerned it will be given a place in the Oklahoma schools.—M. H. Duncan, Member State Board of Education, Oklahoma.

You have given us a biographical dictionary, a geographical gazetteer, and an encyclopedia, under the guise of an English dictionary. Your dictionary will for me supersede several dictionaries that I have been obliged to use together in order to gain the information furnished in this one volume.—W. H. P. Faunce, D.D., LL.D., President Brown University, Providence R. I.

The attractive thing about Mr. Vaile's book is that he treats tennis as a problem of brains. The game, of which he writes with profound knowledge, is very largely one of strokes. He has presented a method for the proper playing of each stroke. Of strokes, volleys, lobs, drives and chops and their compounds it is noteworthy that he separately describes a full dozen; and many of these have modifications. The service, which he also classes as a stroke, has almost as many varieties as all the rest put together.—Evening Sun, New York City.

ITS ANALYTICAL CHARACTER.—It gives at a glance the various shades of meaning of related words represented in the English by one word. ARRANGEMENT OF PROPER NAMES.—The proper names of all persons and places, unlike most concordances, are given in their alphabetical order with meanings. Dates and eras of all persons are also given, so that they may be distinguished from others of the same name. USEFUL FEATURES FOR STUDENTS.—It enables every student to be his own commentator even if he has no knowledge of the Greek or Hebrew languages.

ESPECIALLY HELPFUL ARRANGEMENT.—Every word is given in alphabetical order, and arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each, and its pronunciation. VALUABLE COMPLEMENTARY ARTICLES.—Helpful supplemental articles add value to this concordance. The Rev. Thomas Nicol, B.D., of Edinburgh, contributes "A Sketch of Recent Explorations in Bible Lands," outlining the result of recent topographical and archeological investigations in their bearing upon Scriptures. There are also 71 instructive "Hints and Helps on Bible Interpretation."

Know What the World Is Doing!

Two hours spent weekly in reading The Literary Digest will afford you definite, reliable information on every important happening all over the world. The Digest is CLEAN. Sensational, useless, "slushy" news is omitted, but every event of importance is covered.

All sides of the world's news without our views is the unique policy of The Literary Digest. The editors do not write their views, but they quote from and reflect the opinions of the leading publications of the world on both sides of every question.

The World's Greatest Magazine of Clean, Valuable, Reliable News

The Literary Digest

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

MEN and women who read The Literary Digest take an intelligent and authoritative part in any conversation, anywhere. It gives you all sides and shades of opinion concerning every happening of moment in the realms of Science, Politics, Sport, Art, Literature, Religion, Education, Industry, etc. Profusely illustrated.

Good reading begets good thinking. You get just such reading on every essential topic of the day in The Literary Digest.

It's INTERESTING and at the same time it's VALUABLE reading matter.

The late Senator Benjamin R. Tillman: "It is invaluable to the busy man."

Hudson Maxim, Inventor Smokeless Powder, etc.: "The most indispensable periodical published to-day."

Thos. A. Edison, Orange, N. J.: "I believe that at the present time The Literary Digest prints the most valuable and interesting matter of any publication of similar character that I know of."

Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Ex-Sec'y, of State: "It is unique among the weeklies, combining in one magazine scores of others, and thus has become indispensable to the busy man who would know what is taking place in the world around him."

Judge Oliver Wendell Holmes, United States Supreme Court: "It supplies a want felt alike by professional and lay readers."

Francis E. Clark, President Christian Endeavor Union: "It winnows the multiplicity of newspapers and tells us the most important things which they contain."

Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium: "I have taken The Literary Digest for a great many years, and I should not like to be without it. I think it is invaluable to one who wishes to know what is going on in the world, and it gives, I think, with quite as much of the impersonal feeling as is possible to human beings, both sides of every question."

THE HOMILETIC REVIEW

AN INTERNATIONAL, undenominational magazine of religion, theology, science, and philosophy. Every phase of the minister's work is treated constructively. Issued monthly.

The Homiletic Review contains discussion and information on all the important topics and problems in theology, sociology, and religion. The attitude of the church toward all the live issues of the day receives full attention. It is a practical help to ministers, theological students, and other religious workers of all denominations. It aims to secure the best contributions from leading thinkers, writers, and preachers of the Christian world.

Its reach is world-wide. Its aim is specific—to give the appreciative and alert pastor, already over-taxed with work, the richest, most highly concentrated and effective fund of information, inspiration and suggestion possible. We aim to bring the individual pastor and preacher into touch with all his co-workers, so that he may be broadened, strengthened, inspired, and upheld in his work by the consensus of the whole clerical profession. Our facilities increase with experience, and hence, it is that The Homiletic Review—"ever better and better"——becomes indispensable even to those most eminent in the profession. It surely has, or ought to have, as much claim upon the less favored and successful.

Opinions of Readers and of the Press

"The Homiletic Review is greatly improved over what it was a few years ago—excellent as it was then. The editors are certainly abreast of the times, and there is much in the magazine which a minister can in no way afford to skip."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"The very best magazine of its kind for preachers."—Newell Dwight Hillis, D.D.

"Sincere congratulations on the freshness and vigor of The Review."—Wm. Elliot Griffis, D.D.

"The Homiletic Review is a real homiletic help for ministers; full of ideas and suggestions."—The Presbyterian Banner, Pittsburgh.

"The finest thoughts of the ablest preachers of the present century on the sacred writings are here given in sermonic form."—The Watchman, Boston.

"The Homiletic Review gleans in many fields, and gathers rich and valuable sheaves that might otherwise be lost. The range of subjects treated has great breadth and variety."—The Christian Advocate, New York.

"The Homiletic Review has been greatly improved by the changes made in it recently. I especially like the editorial column, which seems to me quite up-to-date and thoroughly sane."—John Balcom Shaw, D.D.

"I have been reading (The Homiletic) for many years and it seems to me to be occupying a higher plane than ever before, fresher, more vital, more masterly, more stimulating."—President P. W. Crannell, D.D.

"The Homiletic Review stands at the head of magazines devoted to current religious thought and sermonic literature."—Christian Intelligencer.

The Value of a Praying Mother

By Isabel C. Byrum

Written in story-form, the lessons that this book teaches are easily understood, as only actual experiences are related.

A Christian mother realizing that her children need personal, prayerful attention, puts forth a special effort to train them properly. Though her faith is often tested, she is amply rewarded.

Bessie Worthington, the chief character of the book, witnessed many definite answers to prayer, and learned how to place her trust in God—a trust that did not fail in a severe trial when she came to leave home to engage in work for God.

The story of how Bessie overcame the trials of school-life and the temptations of later years will show boys and girls how to lead happy lives by making friends and confidants of their parents.

Bed-Time Stories

By Isabel C. Byrum

Stories of the Old Testament prophets and patriarchs possess a peculiar fascination foreign to stories about people of our own day and age. The remarkable faith of these ancients, the tests to which they were exposed by their heathen enemies, and the manifestations of God's mighty power, furnish material for the interesting narrations contained in this book.

The busy mother will appreciate this volume because of the stories it will suggest to her mind, thus enabling her to respond to the urgent and oft-repeated request, "Tell us another story, mother."

Though this book deals with deep subjects, such as the divine authority of the Scriptures, doctrines concerning God, the nature of man, the problem of sin, yet it has a clearness and a simplicity which recommend it to the general reader.

It was written with the object of giving the busy person the advantage of a student by condensing into one volume subjects usually treated in separate books, which necessarily take much time to read, if read at all.

Living Literature Series. As the title implies, the aim of these books is to offer in attractive form and at a moderate price, some of the vital literature in English, with special emphasis upon the modern and contemporary. The hackneyed numbers of the school list will be avoided. The general editor of the Series is Dr. Richard Burton, long time head of the English department at the University of Minnesota, member of The National Institute, and known as lecturer, teacher, and writer. He will himself edit as one of the earliest numbers, Stevenson's masterpiece, "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Each book will have an introduction by one who is both scholar and critic of reputation. Professor Brander Matthews will introduce a volume of the selected writings of Huxley; Professor William Lyon Phelps will edit Sheridan's brilliant play, "The Rivals;" and Professor A. B. Hart of Harvard, a collection of the letters and addresses of Lincoln. Dr. Leon H. Vincent will have charge of Dickens' "Barnaby Rudge," which has not hitherto received like attention.

The notes will be few and atmospheric rather than petty and pedantic. The aim is to place in the hands of students enjoyable examples of vital, modern literature, the reading of which will make for pleasure as well as profit. Ready soon.

The Teaching of Typewriting. By Rupert P. SoRelle. Complete as the teaching of typewriting is, there has not heretofore been written a single textbook on the subject. Mr. SoRelle has blazed the trail. He discusses the subject under four general headings: Factors of Interest Value, in which he presents a number of devises for awakening the interest of the student. These are designed particularly to induce him to do the amount of work on the technique of typewriting necessary to its successful operation; Second, Teaching Methods, which present the methods of teaching the subjects that have been developed through his own experience particularly and that of other successful teachers of typewriting: Third, the Technique of Typewriting, under which head many of the problems relating to the acquisition of a correct technique are discussed: Fourth, Outlines of Rational Typewriting, giving schedules for the various editions with suggestions for handling. These outlines, while based upon the Rational Typewriting books, are really complete courses of study adapted to varying school conditions. Many of them are laid out period by period and will be invaluable to teachers of the subject in planning their courses whatever textbook is used. The first three sections of the book deal with the subject of teaching typewriting on broad, technical lines and are well adapted to any typewriting instruction book. In addition to the foregoing, the book contains solutions of all the construction and other problems in the Rational books. 144 pages; cloth bound $1.50

Typewriting Speed Studies. By Adelaide B. Hakes. The need for exercises to develop greater technical skill in typewriting is appreciated by nearly every teacher. Miss Hakes has worked out a very effective series of exercises designed to furnish supplementary drills both on the keyboard and on the more advanced phases of typewriting.

These exercises are practical and may be used with any textbook on the subject. For special students who need a greater amount of practice, and for those students striving for the highest degree of typewriting skill, the book will prove invaluable. It is adapted to class work and has many features that will commend it to the wide-awake teacher of the subject. 48 pages, bound in strong art paper. Uniform in typography with the Rational Typewriting books. 60c

FOREWORD

One hears often these days the phrase, "Books have come into their own," which means that reading has become more and more not only an American but a world-wide trait. Never before have books become such a necessity in the lives of every-day people. The fact that four millions of young men just out of service have been exposed daily wherever they happened to be to the companionship of books, have taken this love of reading back to their homes, and transmitted it to the various members of their families, as well, may account for this tremendous revival of reading in the home. At any rate, it is a fact that more books of fiction are being read today than ever before.

Now the Grosset & Dunlap plan of republication of worth-while books at moderate prices is proving a great boon to this new desire to read entertaining books, for it enables the reader to purchase two books for the price of one.

This catalogue offers one of the most splendid opportunities to equip the home library with books which have become classics, sound reference books on various subjects, series of children's and young people's books which have been endorsed by every authority, and then a great list of the freshest and cleverest and most enduring of modern fiction ever gathered by one publishing house.

Moderate prices do not mean that these books have been compelled to suffer from the standpoint of workmanship, durability and aesthetic value, for they will be found to be in every way desirable volumes to add to a library.

Wherever books are sold, Grosset & Dunlap publications may be obtained; but where bookshops are not available, any book will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by the publishers.

Keep this catalogue where it will be easy to refer to it.

THE GROSSET & DUNLAP LIST OF COPYRIGHT FICTION

The aim of the publishers in compiling this INDEX OF GOOD FICTION has been to furnish the book-lover and the book-buyer with a list of nearly all of the fiction successes of recent years, now available at popular prices. By glancing down the index, it will be noted that all of the world's greatest novelists are represented, in most cases by their most important works, and when the conservativeness in prices, the attractiveness of editions and the wide range of choice are considered, the value of this list will be very apparent, sufficient, indeed, to warrant its preservation.

The Great War from Source to Surrender

A remarkable collection of books describing the war on every front and from every angle with a clearness and nearness of vision which no mere book of history can do. They belong on every home and public library shelf as a live, thrilling, reliable record of the days the world has just experienced.

Many of them are by the foremost historians, military authorities and writers of the world. Others are the personal narratives of men and women who have gone through phases of the struggle. Every one of these books will live, just as the stupendous events which they describe and analyze will live in the hearts of men, just as such a book as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has survived by many generations another great war.

THE POPULAR EDITION OF

ILLUSTRATED POEMS

Reprint of "The Deer Creek Edition"

75 cents per volume, postage 15 cents additional

THESE are the seven most popular of all of James Whitcomb Riley's books, containing, as they do, the best, most loved and most popular of his poems. Mr. Riley's unfailing fountain of sympathy gives to his writings that touch of nature which makes the whole world kin. It is this chord of appealing to human harmonies that has gained for James Whitcomb Riley the name of the "People's Poet Laureate."

Each of these seven volumes contains an individual and appropriate picture jacket in four colors. Most of them are wonderfully illustrated by Will Vawter, who has caught the happy, homely, rollicking note in James Whitcomb Riley's poems.

RILEY CHILD RHYMES

A collection of the favorites of Mr. Riley's delightful child-rhymes, the popular poems of childhood. "With hale affection and abiding faith these rhymes and pictures are inscribed to the children everywhere." The poems are illustrated with a hundred Hoosier pictures by Will Vawter.

RILEY LOVE LYRICS

This volume contains all the favorites of Mr. Riley's passionate and tender love poems. The illustrations, of which there are over fifty, by William B. Dyer, add greatly to the book's artistic beauty.

RILEY FARM RHYMES

The many poems by Mr. Riley in which is mirrored his love of the great out-doors. He has inscribed the book "With all Grateful Esteem to the Good Old-Fashioned People." The songs are illustrated with country pictures by Will Vawter.

RILEY SONGS O' CHEER

A collection of the favorites of Mr. Riley's poems of gladness, content and consolation. A book to scatter smiles and laughter; the deadly enemy of the blues; the conqueror of sorrow. Illustrated with over one hundred happy pictures by Will Vawter.

RILEY SONGS OF SUMMER

The loveliest and best-beloved poems about summer and the out-door summer land. This book takes us back to glad boyhood and puts us "knee deep in June." With sunshiny pictures by Will Vawter.

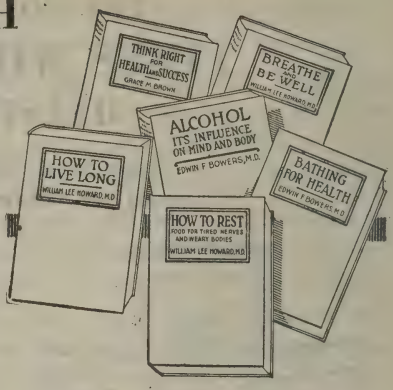
RILEY SONGS OF HOME

A collection of the best-known and best-loved songs, sounding the note of fireside joy, cheery encouragement and homely philosophy. Here are poems of courage and faith, of endurance and of hope in the daily life struggle. With Hoosier pictures by Will Vawter.

RILEY SONGS OF FRIENDSHIP

Half a hundred poems here—including a number of old favorites—voice in homely fashion the poet's greetings, and glorify the ties that bind kindly human hearts together everywhere. Illustrated with many Hoosier pictures by Will Vawter.

HANDBOOKS OF HEALTH



A Doctor is all right in a pinch—but why pay him for knowing the things you ought to know yourself?

You owe it to yourself to be well. Perfect health of mind and body is the one heritage we have a right to demand for ourselves and for the generations to come.

With this in mind, and realizing the earnest strivings of all every-day people, at home and in the camps, for that thing called Health, and its companions, Success and Happiness, there is being offered a group of books called HANDBOOKS OF HEALTH, books of fact and sound advice, written by the most up-to-date of authorities, but written so interestingly, so humanly, and so simply, that the idea never comes to one that they are "doctor books."

HOW TO LIVE LONG
By William Lee Howard, M. D.

Everyone knows that "one man's meat is another man's poison."

Still some solemn authorities (?) would have everybody eat so many ounces of this and never touch that.

Presuming that everyone is interested in common sense—HOW TO LIVE LONG is written by a real authority.

Dr. Howard tells how to store up our youth and lengthen our lives.

BREATHE AND BE WELL
By William Lee Howard, M. D.

It is a marvelously simple story of how easy it is to get the very best out of life by devoting a few minutes a day to proper breathing.

You will develop your body, your mind will become more alert, you will lengthen your life.

Not science, but plain simple rules, which, if followed, will give you what all the world is seeking—physical and mental fitness.

BATHING FOR HEALTH, A Simple Way to Physical Fitness
By Edwin F. Bowers, M. D.

One should know the kind of bath one's body needs. Baths can be "big medicine," or they may be dangerous. They can soothe nerves, stop wakefulness, and quiet fretful children. Under right conditions they break up colds and relieve pain and inflammation.

This book tells what a bath is, how it acts, when and how often to take it, and what kinds of baths to employ for the particular things that ail us. It tells how the bath may influence beauty, morality, digestion and nerves.

HOW TO REST, Food for Tired Nerves and Weary Bodies
By William Lee Howard, M. D.

Knowing how to rest while carrying out our daily tasks is the only way to keep the human machine up to its full working capacity.

This common-sense way of preserving health and harmony of brain and nerves will result in a better quality of work and this with that pleasure that health and lasting vigor always give.

Dr. Howard explicitly shows the methods and gives you a simple series of rules to follow and also tells how to instruct and train, rest and feed the children.

ALCOHOL, Its Influence on Mind and Body
By Edwin F. Bowers, M. D.

This book is written in a frank spirit of fairness, by a keen-minded physician, who makes scientific facts as interesting as fiction—while still keeping them scientific he proves an error in the minds of millions of intelligent, well-informed and conscientious people, who not only deny evil in moderate drinking, but affirm undoubted benefit from it.

THINK RIGHT FOR HEALTH AND SUCCESS
By Grace M. Brown

Thought is the controlling influence of life.

The way we think—the way we picture things affects the body for good or ill.

Right thinking controls in a large measure our ability to demand and achieve success.

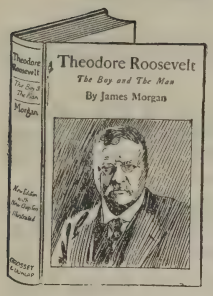
HOME GARDENING

Vegetables and Flowers. By Benjamin F. Albaugh

What this book does for the average man and woman is, first to instill an irresistible desire to plant things—both vegetables and flowers—and then to tell in the simplest and most practical manner how to go about doing so. It is frankly for amateurs, but by following the instructions given, the home gardener may easily become a professional, and grow a surprising amount of fresh vegetables from a very small backyard plot. HOME GARDENING is simple, non-technical, easy to understand. Fully illustrated with wrapper in colors. Size, 5½ x 8¼.

"GROWING" LITERATURE

FOR THE BOY AND GIRL OF THE 'TEENS



The following list of books comprises recognized classics in fiction. But the fact that they are classics does not mean that there is not in them all of the thrill and adventure and romance and action which young people demand. The "between-time" in a boy's and girl's reading, that period when they scorn the "Juvenile," and are not yet ready for the heavier novels, is an important stage in their reading. The following are all books which they will want to read some time in their lives. And right now is the very best time to do so.

FAIRY TALES WHICH NEVER GROW OLD

THE LANG FAIRY BOOKS

Who could have been a better judge than Andrew Lang as to the most delightful and entertaining of all the fairy tales ever written—or passed on by word of mouth, as they were in the olden days before the invention of printing? Four of these volumes are made up of Lang's choice from the stories of all people—French and English and Scotch, German, Italian, Chinese, American Indian—omitting none, and include among them the old favorites, such as Cinderella, Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp, Dick Whittington, Puss in Boots, etc. The fifth volume is comprised of stories, as Lang says, "Made up out of my own head."

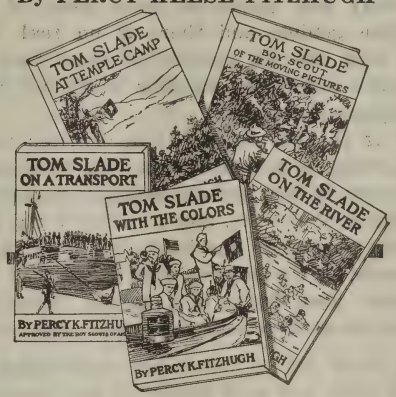
NEW POPULAR COPYRIGHTED JUVENILES
THE TOM SLADE SERIES

"We write to thank you for at last making available, at a popular price, 'The Tom Slade Books'; most reputable Boy Scout stories, that will, we are confident, most successfully compete with the trashy and sometimes pernicious so-called Boy Scout books."

—From letter received from Director Library Dept., B. S. A.

By PERCY KEESE FITZHUGH



The Boy Scouts' Hand Book gives the rules. The Tom Slade Books tell how to put them into practice, and in such a fascinating manner that when a boy reads one of them he cannot rest until he has read them all.

50 cents per volume. Postage 10 cents additional.

Beautiful picture wrapper in colors, colored lining papers and four illustrations

The problem of the parents of today is that of keeping the busy, inquiring minds of their boys occupied with wholesome, vital, and manly things. Only in this way can their boys be kept out of mischief, especially in the vacation season of the year, when the reading of good books becomes a potent method of control. The TOM SLADE BOOKS will fascinate every live boy, and at the same time they will arouse in him ideals of manhood which he will follow all his life. Tom Slade has been found by thousands of boys to be the best playmate in the world, and during the summer holidays he is certain to prove the best companion whom parents can secure for that American boy of theirs. He and his fellows do not talk "as they do in books," but as they talk in camp and on hikes.

TOM SLADE, BOY SCOUT.
Tom Slade lived in Barrel Alley. The story of his thrilling scout experiences, how he was gradually changed from the street gangster into a first-class scout, keeps one thrilled to the very end.

TOM SLADE AT TEMPLE CAMP; OR, THE WINNING OF THE GOLDEN CROSS.
In this second story of the adventures of Tom Slade, we find the promise made by his friend, Mary Temple, fulfilled. It is chock full of the spice of woodcraft and adventure.

TOM SLADE ON THE RIVER; OR, THE CRUISE OF THE HONOR SCOUT.
Tom Slade and the Bridgeboro Troop take the memorable and most entertaining cruise which is recounted in this story.

TOM SLADE WITH THE COLORS.
A Scout story with a war flavor. It pictures Tom's pre-military, patriotic activities at home while he was still identified with his scout troop.

TOM SLADE ON A TRANSPORT.
His thrilling experiences on the high seas while bound for "Somewhere in France."

TOM SLADE WITH THE BOYS OVER THERE.
His flight through Alsace-Lorraine after his escape from the German prison camp, wherein his former experience as a scout served him in good stead. We leave him at the threshold of active service at the front.

TOM SLADE, MOTORCYCLE DISPATCH BEARER.
As a dispatch bearer behind the lines where scout resourcefulness and inventive cleverness are put to the supreme test, and Tom is confronted with the terrible alternative for a soldier—that of obeying orders and delivering the message he has set out to deliver, or that of bearing the more important documents found upon the dead German.

TOM SLADE WITH THE FLYING CORPS.
Tom's cherished dream of scouting and fighting for Uncle Sam in the air is fulfilled. His exploits give him the nickname of the American Eagle.

Set of Eight Volumes Complete, Boxed, $4.00.

MARJORIE'S NEW FRIEND

In this book there arrives Marjorie's new and ever afterward inseparable friend, Delight Spencer, also a Valentine party, a Jinks auction, and a month of captivity in the Spencer home.

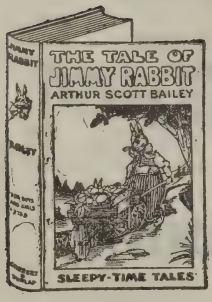
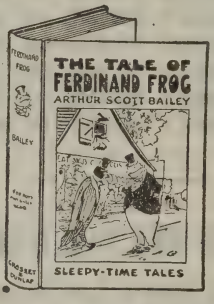
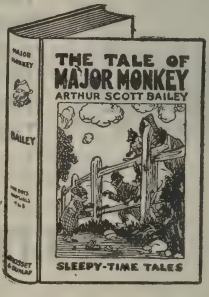
SLEEPY-TIME TALES







By Arthur Scott Bailey

Picture wrappers in four colors. Illustrated by Harry L. Smith.

These little books for little people from three to eight tell of the adventures of the four-footed creatures of our American woods and fields in an amusing way which delights small two-footed human beings and brings forth the plea, "Mother, please read me again 'bout Cuffy Bear and the time he stuck his foot in the hot maple syrup."

While the youngster eagerly listens to the imaginary escapades of the little animal folks, a foundation, other than that based upon the natural history facts in the stories, is being laid. In the shortcomings of Cuffy Bear, Frisky Squirrel, Fatty Coon and their neighbors, children are quick to recognize their own faults and to take home the obvious lessons.

An Atlas Constructed on Modern Lines

Railroads Given Prominence

Railroads are of utmost importance in these times. For that reason, each railroad system on each state map, the maps of Canadian Provinces, Mexico, Cuba, etc., is printed in a separate color, the background of the map bring left uncolored.

The advantages of this feature are obvious to the Merchant and Shipper. Over 300,000 miles of railroads are thus shown. The index, likewise, gives particular attention to the railroads. Railroad stations are listed, and, by a numerical method, the names of the railroads passing through the towns are instantly ascertained.

The Standard Atlas is Most Complete

In this atlas is a new series of large scale maps of each of our states and of each province of Canada, portraying in detail the Commercial Geography of North America, showing all counties, cities and towns with the transportation facilities, railway stations, junction points, etc.

A list of counties and principal cities and towns is printed at the side of the map together with the index references by which the towns may be located. Printed with only the county boundaries tinted, against a white background, the minute detail of the maps is brought out in a very clear manner and the special coloring of railroads mentioned above increases the facility for acquiring information in the shortest possible time. Then, too, any marks or checks made on these maps in routing salesmen or assigning territory are much more distinctly seen than when made on the ordinary old-style colored map.

In addition to the railroads, the interurban electric lines and water routes, which are becoming most important factors in transportation, are in individual colors so that they may be traced at a glance—you can follow the route quickly and accurately from start to finish.

The Standard Atlas is printed on heavy paper and is durably bound in cloth or half leather, with side stamps in white and gold.

HAMMOND'S
MODERN ATLAS of THE WORLD

¶ During the last few years numberless changes, which render an old atlas useless, have been wrought. New towns have sprung up; old cities and towns have grown; thousands of miles of new railroads have been built; history has changed the boundaries of countries, and these with numberless other changes are recorded in this new work. It is down to date in every particular.

This new atlas contains 128 pages of MAPS, beautifully printed in colors, representing every portion of the earth as it is TO-DAY. These plates have been engraved from new drawings, based on the latest surveys, and the publishers believe them to be the most complete and carefully edited series of like size covering the whole earth. The lettering is clear and clean cut throughout, carefully graded in size to convey at a glance relative importance of places. Railroads are shown and named and with very few exceptions, in crowded or densely populated sections, every railroad station and post-office is named.

On the margin of each map is an ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED INDEX OF COUNTIES (or other minor divisions), CITIES AND TOWNS. A division or place may be instantly located without turning the page. The convenience of such a quick reference index will be readily appreciated.

Another valuable feature of this work is a very complete INDEX OF CITIES AND TOWNS of the United States with POPULATION ACCORDING TO THE LATEST CENSUS. This new index is complete and down to date. Population of Foreign Cities are given according to latest reports.

The size of this work is 10½x13½ inches, printed on high finish paper and durably bound in red cloth, with attractive cover stamping.

Business Atlas of Economic Geography

This atlas presents in a concise and graphic way information not readily secured without considerable research work calling for the use of government reports, encyclopedias and other books of reference. It contains eighty-eight pages of special maps illustrating commercial and other details of vital interest to business men and of real value to all who would know about the countries of the world.

MAPS TELL THE STORY, whether the fact be one of natural features, of climate, of products, or of political relations. Each map deals with one phase of physical or commercial interest. The maps are correlatable and show the effect of location and topography upon climate, and the dependence of population and industry upon both.

PHYSICAL MAPS show the elevation of the land and the depths of the ocean by different gradations of tint, while isothermal lines for January and July connect places having the same average temperature. The effects of elevation and proximity to water upon temperature are apparent.

CLIMATIC MAPS show the summer and winter rainfall, atmosphere pressure and the prevailing winds.

ECONOMIC MAPS locate the industrial districts, the productive and non-productive areas. The agricultural and mineral products are indicated by initials and symbols.

VEGETATION MAPS show in different colors the prevailing types of natural vegetation-forests, grass-lands, deserts, tundras, etc.

POPULATION MAPS. The density of population is shown by colors and the more important towns by heavy black dots.

POLITICAL MAPS show the railroads. Additional and unusual features are language maps, racial maps and oil and gas maps.

Indexed Pocket Atlas of the United States

This book of diminutive size, 4 x 6⅜ inches, is the latest and most serviceable Pocket Atlas of the United States. Small enough in size to be carried in any ordinary pocket, it furnishes a large fund of information about our country, which it would be difficult to obtain elsewhere in as convenient a form. The Pocket Atlas should be a part of the equipment of every traveler in the United States, and find a place among the reference books on every desk.

MAPS. A double page map is devoted to each state while more important localities are reproduced on special maps of larger scale, thus permitting the inclusion of many suburban and small towns which could not be shown on the state maps. The maps are all remarkable for their legibility. Place-names are not only distinct, but the relative importance of the town is indicated by the size of the type.

THE SPECIAL MAPS include the vicinities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, Indianapolis, Baltimore, Boston, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Joplin, St. Louis, Kansas City, the White Mountains, Northeastern New Jersey, New York City, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, the Anthracite Region, Richmond, Norfolk, Puget Sound Region, and Milwaukee.

RAILROADS. The railroads of each state are not only shown on the map but THEY ARE NAMED, a feature which adds to the value and interest of the book.

THE INDEX. A list of the principal cities and towns of each state, printed on a page preceding or closely following the map, with index references for instantly locating the same, adds to the utility of the book.

POPULATION FIGURES are also given. These include many recent government estimates and the results of the census of 1915 are given for all those states which made an enumeration that year.

This book is printed on thin paper and bound in cloth, with round corners, and colored edges.

The Comparative Series of Large Schoolroom Maps

IT is an undoubted fact that the most serviceable maps for class teaching purposes are those that illustrate clearly, and at a glance, both Political and Physical Features. This New Series will be found to possess this combination, and, in addition, to form an extremely attractive decoration for the schoolroom.

SPECIAL FEATURES

1.—Physical Features are especially prominent. The land is tinted according to its elevation, and the mountain ranges are printed in a different color. The coastline, river courses, lakes, etc., are well defined and printed in blue.

2.—Uniformity of Scale and Comparison of Areas:—To emphasise the comparative areas of the various regions of the world, a uniform scale and equivalent projections have been used for the continental maps.

3.—The political boundaries are clearly shown by red line the towns by red circles, varying in size according to importance, and the railways by black lines. The principal ocean routes with their distances are also given.

4.—The lettering is well executed, and sufficiently large to be readable by all in an ordinary sized class-room.

5.—Great care has been bestowed upon the selection and spelling of names. All overcrowding has been avoided. Nothing unnecessary has been inserted. and nothing necessary omitted.

THE NEW AUTHENTIC SERIES MAPS

No material of a geographic nature is as constantly sought as a reliable series of pocket maps of continents and countries, and it is entirely because of their up-to-dateness, general accuracy, and low price that the Authentic Series has enjoyed a popularity exceeded by no other line.

These maps, covering, on a large scale, every important portion of the civilized globe are based on the most recent surveys and other reliable data, while the greatest care and precision have been exercised in their engraving and printing.

Four distinquishing features mark the preparation of these maps:

1. MINUTE DETAIL. It may be safely said that no other maps contain small details to such a degree of completeness. They show the political divisions of countries, sub-divisions, and states. Railways are accurately and distinctly delineated and principal roads, submarine telegraph lines, etc. are given.

2. GREAT CLEARNESS. By the careful elimination of unimportant details and by the distinct lettering throughout, all confusion and illegibility have been successfully avoided; the maps can be examined and the desired imformation obtained without the slightest difficulty.

3. LARGE SCALE. Serving also to increase the legibility of the maps, their large scale appeals to all tourists and travelers, as well as those who require that the delineation of even the smallest details be accurate.

4. DISTINCT COLORING. The boundaries of all political divisions are indicated by light tints, which give the maps a strikingly beautiful appearance, without obliterating any of the place names.

The compactness of these maps in their light blue cloth cases adds to their general attractiveness and utility.

United States Navy, Illustrated

This new book represents our Navy as it was when the United States entered the war. It contains sixty-two illustrations, among which are the new battle cruiser Ranger and the new battleships California, Colorado and Arizona. In addition to the broadside views of the vessels, there are detailed pictures of portions of the ships and interesting scenes aboard them. These include four interior views of submarines, two views of battleship decks showing the big guns, the Anti-Aircraft guns on the battleship Pennsylvania, the Military Mast of the Utah, and pictures of target practice, method of signaling between vessels, etc. Following the illustrations are six pages of naval statistics of especial interest. These figures include the displacement, length, speed, guns, torpedo tubes, rigging, contract price, and age of each vessel. They are classified in groups according to type. On the cover pages are the chevrons of enlisted men, and other insignia of commissioned and warrant officers. Sixty-four pages, size 6 x 9 inches, paper binding. Price, 25 cents.

Aircraft of All Nations

This book contains over forty photographs selected and described by Henry Woodhouse, member of the Board of Governors, Aero Club of America, with the added attraction of an introduction by Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary. Thirty-two pages, devoted exclusively to photographic reproductions of all types of aircraft, include seaplanes, hydro-aeroplanes, battleplanes, torpedoplanes, flying boats, military kite balloons, Zeppelins, dirigibles and "Blimps." Other interesting illustrations picture vividly such interesting events as the Aerial Blockade, the holding up of a ship at sea by a Zeppelin, Prince Frederick Karl of Prussia starting for a flight, etc. The covers bears a splendidly conceived design in three colors, showing the leading American, Russian, English, Canadian, and French aeroplanes, encircling a German Zeppelin. Thirty-two pages, size 6 x 9 inches. Price, paper binding, 25 cents.

A Remarkable Tribute

The striking editorial quoted below was printed in "The Bellman," of Minneapolis, Minn., one of the ablest and most distinguished of American weeklies.

"ALL of the rest of them have gone, chasing the false gods, some of tin, some of clay, and some, alas! of mud and slime; Harper's Magazine alone remains true to its ancient faith. It might well claim for its motto: 'The First in the Field; the Last to Leave It.'

"Practically all of the American monthly magazines except Harper's have obediently responded to what they imagined was the demand of the readers of to-day; many of them have burned their bridges behind them, with more valor than discretion, and some, lacking the boldness frankly to abandon their old standards, are tentatively toying with departures in text and illustration, as if to discover how much of the new and inferior stuff their readers will stand without a revolt.

"True quality has been ruthlessly sacrificed to sensation in the hope that it may bring the usual reward, circulation, which, in turn, will bring advertising, the sole end and aim of the modern magazine publisher. . . .

"When a magazine hesitates to lower its former standard of quality to meet fancied modern requirements, it sometimes resorts to the 'special edition' subterfuge; clearly a bait to catch a certain class of advertisers. By this, the regular subscriber, who does not happen to be interested in the subject exploited in the 'special edition' and who takes the publication for the literature it is supposed to furnish, finds himself trapped into the superficial and discontented perusal of a mass of advertising-inspired reading matter, to discover only a modicum of the stuff he pays for in the edition.

"Demoralization and degeneration have marked the course of most of the American monthly publications during the past few years. . . . Crude illustrations, the work of decadent or half-trained artists, have taken the place of drawings that were a delight to the eye and a gratification to the artistic sense; the scholarly and cultivated editorial touch has been superseded by the italicized sentimentality, the capitalized boastfulness, and the double-leaded egotism of the literary bounder and charlatan. Literature has gone and the discussion of the more revolting 'questions of the hour' has evicted it. . . .

"It has come to be that scarcely one of these monthly magazines may be safely admitted to a place on the family library table without first undergoing a rigid censorship lest it contain something unfit for indiscriminate readers. Since knowledge of evil has been proclaimed the sole protector of youth and innocence, the bars against verbal and pictorial filth have been swept away, and magazines once clean and wholesome can no longer be wholly depended upon to keep the implied faith of decency and reticence with their readers.

"Harper's Monthly is now practically alone in the position which it took in the beginning and has consistently maintained ever since. Evidently its publishers are determined, in these days of easy and prompt compliance with a sentiment esteemed to be deep and wide-spread because it is vociferous, not to be misled by clamor into the belief that all Americans have gone mad. They are obviously minded to uphold and advance the publication's traditional standards, thereby widening the distinction between it and its backsliding contemporaries.

"In the long run this will prove not only the best, but the wisest policy from every standpoint, business as well as ethical. To every true advance and improvement Harper's has responded promptly and generously, but it has made no mistake in committing itself to the sensational in either text or illustration. To-day it stands absolutely alone in its field; distinguished and discriminating, and reflecting, as it always has done, the fixed stars of the literary firmament, as well as the abiding spirit of the American people, not the transient echo of the yet unamalgamated alien."

From The Bellman, Minneapolis, Minn.

MORATORIUM, Delaying, Extending, Postponing, Staying

Moratorium, the Latin neuter singular of moratorius—causing delay. In financial affairs a permission or authority granted by a government, corporation, or other large body, to persons, etc., to delay making payment of obligations beyond the time of their maturity; in other words, extending, postponing, or staying the time when payments become due.

A moratorium may be granted for thirty days or longer, according to the exigencies that render the act necessary. In the early part of the European war that broke out in 1914 moratoria were proclaimed by several governments to prevent monetary panics. For a like purpose large stock and other exchanges in the principal financial centers of the world postponed for a time the transaction of any business by closing the exchanges.

CHARLEVOIX'S HISTORY OF NEW FRANCE

Translated from the original edition, with notes, by Dr. John Gilmary Shea. A new edition, with life of the Translator and Bibliography of his writings, by Noah Farnham Morrison.

The importance of Dr. Shea's translation of Rev. P. F. X. De Charlevoix's History and General Description of New France, as an original authority and standard reference work cannot be overestimated. The New France of that date (1740) was far more than what we now know as Canada. It embraced the best part of the North American Continent. Thus Charlevoix, besides giving a full history of Canada down to 1740, relates in detail the early annals of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, New York, Michigan, Illinois and Northwestern States, and Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. This new edition contains over 40 illustrations, including all the maps, steel portraits, etc. Limited to 750 numbered sets. 6 vols., 8vo, cloth, uncut, - - - - - - - - $18.00 net per set

This important work, of which a very limited number was published by the author thirty years ago, is now very rare. A fire having destroyed a large portion of certain of the volumes, only about 150 complete sets were ever sold.

AMERICAN EXPLORERERS SERIES NO. 4

History of Early Steamboat Navigation on the Missouri River

By MAJOR HIRAM M. CHITTENDEN, U. S. ENGINEER CORPS.

The Life and Adventures of Joseph La Barge, Pioneer Navigator and Indian Trader. For fifty years identified with the commerce of the Missouri Valley. Map, portraits and illustrations from early photographs. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth. (Edition limited to 950 copies.) - - - - - - - - - - - - - - $6.00 net

A valuable and interesting original work by the author of "The American Fur Trade of the Far West." Very few people now have any conception of the part the steamboat navigation of the Missouri River played in the upbuilding of the West. The business of the fur trade, the intercourse of government agents with the Indians, the campaigns of the army throughout the valley and the wild rush of gold-seekers to the mountains, all depended, in greater or less degree, upon the Missouri River as a line of transportation. No other river in this country has a record to compare with it. From beginning to end it abounds in thrilling incident, and the life which it fostered was full of picturesque and even tragic details.

will be interested in the following volumes both for their authoritative information and as examples of unusually fine typography.

GIOTTO AND SOME OF HIS FOLLOWERS. By Osvald Sirén. 2 vols. Royal octavo. Regular edition, $12.00; special subscribers' edition, $30.00.

For convenience of reference, all the illustrations are grouped in the second volume. The text, which comprises Volume I, lays a foundation for a better knowledge and truer estimate of the early Florentine Trecento painters and at the same time offers considerable information about Giotto's principal followers which is not to be found in any other book on the subject.

EUTHYMIDES AND HIS FELLOWS. By Joseph Clark Hoppin. Octavo. $4.00.

Euthymides, Phintias, Hypsis, and the Kleophrades painter, four important vase-decorators in Athens at the beginning of the fifth century, B.C., are discussed in this book. Every vase signed by or attributed to them is illustrated by a separate plate or cut, thus eliminating, so far as possible, the necessity for reference to other books.

A HANDBOOK OF ATTIC RED-FIGURED VASES SIGNED BY OR ATTRIBUTED TO THE VARIOUS MASTERS OF THE SIXTH AND FIFTH CENTURIES, B.C. By Joseph Clark Hoppin. 2 vols. Octavo. $8.00 a volume.

This work offers a bibliography of all the artists indicated by the title, and an index to all their vases. The many illustrations, in line and halftone, are large enough to permit the analysis of stylistic details.

ATTIC RED-FIGURED VASES IN AMERICAN MUSEUMS. By J. D. Beazley. Quarto. $7.00.

Mr. Beazley has so developed the study of Greek ceramics that he has created almost a new science. By the application of his theory that every Attic red-figured vase may be assigned to a given hand, he has identified more than fifty hitherto nameless painters.

A LOAN EXHIBITION OF EARLY ITALIAN ENGRAVINGS. By Paul J. Sachs. Octavo. Paper. $2.00.

The exhibition of which this book is a catalogue, was held in the Fogg Art Museum at Harvard College during the fall of 1915, in memory of Francis Bullard. Mr. Sachs has provided a bibliography of each engraver and a description and a full page illustration of each of the 119 prints that were on view. Thus the volume is a convenient guide to the whole field of early Italian engraving.

VITRUVIUS: THE TEN BOOKS ON ARCHITECTURE. Translated by Morris H. Morgan. Royal Octavo. $3.50.

This volume contains more than sixty illustrations prepared by the late Professor Herbert L. Warren, including measured plans and elevations of actual and " typical " works of Vitruvius, and of Greek and Roman monuments such as have come down to us, reproductions of woodcuts in Fra Giacondo's edition of 1511, and numerous photographs of Roman remains.

FOR THE NEW WORLD-ORDER

ESSAYS IN SOCIAL JUSTICE. By Professor Thomas Nixon Carver. Second printing. $2.00.
These essays, remarkable for common sense and breadth of view, discuss among other matters such vital questions as the social conflict, the distribution of wealth, the question of monopoly, the single tax, the cure for poverty, and constructive democracy.

SOME ASPECTS OF THE TARIFF QUESTION. By Professor Frank William Taussig. Second printing. $2.00.
A complete manual of tariff information; the general principles taken up in the first section are illustrated in the later parts of the volume, in which the history of certain protected industries — sugar, iron, silks, cottons, and woolens — is followed in detail.

CORPORATE PROMOTIONS AND REORGANIZATIONS. By Arthur Stone Dewing. $2.50.
A critical narrative of the promotion, financial history, and reorganization of fourteen large industrial consolidations; at various places in the book the probable results of governmental regulation of large business enterprises are pointed out.

THE ANTHRACITE COAL COMBINATION IN THE UNITED STATES. By Eliot Jones. $1.50.
Beginning with a history of the origin and growth of the anthracite coal industry, the author narrates in detail the development of the combination under railroad control, and the attempts made by the Government to break this control.

THE COTTON MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY IN THE UNITED STATES. By Professor Melvin Thomas Copeland. $2.00.
In this work the author describes the American cotton manufacturing industry, with emphasis on the period since the Civil War; compares the advantages of northern and southern mills; and discusses labor conditions, progress in technique, organization, and the like.

THE STATE TAX COMMISSION. By Harley Leist Lutz. $2.75.
The principal emphasis in this book is placed upon the methods and results of centralized tax administration.

HARVARD BUSINESS STUDIES.
In this series four volumes have already been issued: — 1. SCIENTIFIC MANAGEMENT, edited by Clarence Bertrand Thompson ($4.00); 2. AN APPROACH TO BUSINESS PROBLEMS, by Arch Wilkinson Shaw ($2.00); 3. BUSINESS STATISTICS, edited by Melvin Thomas Copeland ($3.75); 4. A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MUNICIPAL UTILITY REGULATION AND MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP, by Don Lorenzo Stevens ($4.00). Descriptive circulars of all these books will be sent on request.
